

MSU Physiology Society's Distinguished Member Award

The MSU Physiology Society's Distinguished Member Award is given to the member with the most points at the end of the academic year. This award is to honor the member who commits the most time and effort to the Society's meetings and events. The winner will have their name engraved on a perpetual plaque in the Physiology Department office, along with a certificate signed by the club president and club advisor.

Requirements/rewards:

- Must be an active member
- Must have the most points at the end of the year
- Points can be gained from attending meetings, attending MSU Physiology Society events/gatherings, attending MSU Physiology Department events, and bringing a friend
- If there is a tie for the most points, a brief essay will be assigned to determine the winner.
- If sought after, winner will have the first opportunity at an open e-board position.

Essay for tie:

Please write us a brief essay on how the MSU Physiology Society has helped you make progress towards your academic and/or career goals.
